SPRING IS HERE!!!

It arrived last night at 11:06 P.M. and yes, it seems early, but that's because of the leap year! :D

Spring arrived at the Gage Park Greenhouse last week with the Spring Tide Bulb Show.

They were featuring pollinators, mostly bees, with the blooms.

Notice the citrus on these trees...

Did you plant any spring bulbs last fall?

Mine definitely think it's spring and are growing happily!

Have you started some seeds yet?

If not, tonight's seed swap should be a great way to get going!

Remember to save the date for our 95th Birthday Party & D6 Fall Dinner

Sunday, 27 October, 2024 3 P.M.

We will be asking you, our members, for ideas and tips. We want to showcase WinHort and Winona !

Sunny Blooms & Happy Spring!

Nature's Superheroes: Life at the Limits – continues to April 21

Life is full of unexpected wonders. Over billions of years, living things have evolved from simple cells into an awe-inspiring array of life forms—a spectacle of colours, textures, behaviours, specialized parts and exacting skills. Some species are familiar, while others are so amazing that they test the limits of our imagination. Get to know some of these incredible creatures at RBG's Winter Exhibit. This is a time-ticketed exhibition, pre-registration is required. For details visit <https://www.rbq.ca/things-to-do/by-season/special-events/winter-exhibit/>

Eclipse Prep and Viewing Experiences – SOLD OUT

The Joy of Birding – April 12 9am

Another session with instructor, Catherine Manschot, and other birders to explore and get to know birds better. Registration is kept to a small group size of 12 registrants, and takes place in a variety of habitats on RBG lands. Participants will be notified of the program's location via email at least 48 hours prior to program date. 2-3 hours long, for more experienced birders. $20 (+ 1$ Service fee & HST) per session. Members 10% off. Must pre-register by April 9. More dates available. <https://www.rbq.ca/events/the-joy-of-birding-intermediate-2/>

Seed Library

RBG provides seeds that you borrow, grow, and then return. Whether you are new to gardening, interested in growing a greater diversity of plants, or invested in supporting a community of growers, the seed library will help you meet those goals. The seed library focuses on herbaceous perennials, grasses, annuals, and trees and shrubs although some food plants are also available. There are two lists: one containing only perennials and grasses, and the other with annuals, veggies and woody perennials. You may request up to 8 seed varieties, to make sure you get some of your preferred seeds, but only 5 will be supplied. Place your requests early, as seed supply is limited. More at <https://www.rbq.ca/plants-conservation/science/library-archives/seed-library/>

RBG offers a great lineup of fun, and educational programs for all ages. Call 905 527-1158 or visit their website www.rbq.ca To borrow the WHS member's passes contact Hélène or Krys.

Tonight's Speaker

Tonight, it is once again our pleasure to welcome Catherine "Cat" McGill as our speaker. Always fun to be with, and ever knowledgeable, Cat's talks are gems of wisdom, embellished with the joys and challenges of life. And hers is a life well-lived.

Over the years, Cat has worn many hats, including blacksmith, horse trainer, and riding instructor, but her passion for gardening, especially in our "golden years", is what brings her to us this evening. Cat has owned and operated a garden maintenance business for more than 40 years, where many of her clients are seniors. Besides that, she is a Horticultural and Design judge, putting good use to her expansive knowledge of plants. For several years she was OHA Director of District 6, over-seeing 21 hort societies, as well as serving as Southwest rep for the board of OHA, helping directors of all the other districts!

Cat is officially retired from it all, but as she says, "once a volunteer always a volunteer". She is still the administrator on gardenontario, District 6 and Haldimand Horticultural Society Facebook pages.

Cat describes herself as "aging, round, and humour in a nutshell", wonderful qualities to exemplify her motto: "If you can't see the humour in what you are doing – why are you doing it?"

"Gardening adds years to your life and life to your years" (Unknown)

Gardening at any age

Many of the world's centenarians share one common hobby: gardening. Not only does it help you live longer, gardening at any age helps you grow!

For many of us, our first gardening experience was in early school days, growing a bean sprout in a glass jar. Remember the fascination of seeing the seed swell, then the tiny shoot emerging, and soon a fully developed plant with roots and leaves and everything?! Perhaps it's that feeling of creating life that keeps us gardening well into our senior years, but there are so many great benefits to gardening, that it's hard not to!

The first that comes to mind is fresh air and sunshine. Cleaner air promotes deep breathing, which helps to relieve stress, and sunshine provides our bodies with a source of Vitamin D, to lower blood pressure and boost our mood.

Moderate exercise helps to keep bones and muscles strong. It improves hand strength and dexterity, and can even reduce the risk of heart attacks and strokes. And fun fact: digging in the dirt can boost the immune system, because working with the soil exposes people to Mycobacterium vaccae, bacteria which, according to some studies (<https://link.springer.com/article/10.1007/s00213-019-05253-9>), has anti-inflammatory, immunoregulatory, and stress resilience properties.

There are also significant benefits to our mental health. Having a garden that needs our attention can help foster a sense of purpose, and watching it grow imparts a real sense of accomplishment. It's a wonderful way to stay engaged! Research shows that this kind of focus is good therapy for people with dementia, and may even help to prevent it. (<https://www.neurology.org/doi/10.1212/wnl.0000000000007021>)

As we continue to garden into advancing years, we should not let "numbers" discourage us. Nowadays there are so many tips and tools available to make the work accessible, that there is no reason to give up our favourite hobby. JB

Equinox vs Equilux – what's the difference?

Yesterday, March 19, 2024, marked the "spring equinox", or the first day of astronomical spring. The term equinox means "equal night", when day and night are supposedly each 12 hours long. However, this is not entirely true. Because the Earth's atmosphere acts like a lens and refracts (bends) the sun's light above the edge of the horizon, we actually can see sunlight for a few minutes before sunrise, and another few after sunset. Thus, the length of daylight on any given day is increased by six or seven minutes. In spring, this means that the time when day and night are actually equal happens a few days before the equinox, and is known as the equilux ("equal light").

Solar Eclipse

On April 8, a spectacular and rare celestial event is set to unfold over Canada, the United States and Mexico – a total solar eclipse. As the Moon aligns perfectly between Earth and the Sun, temporary darkness will sweep across parts of the country. In Hamilton, the event begins at 2:04pm and is 2 hours and 27 min in length. The total eclipse is at 3:18pm. This will be the last major eclipse for 20 years!

Membership Renewal

Many thanks to those who have already renewed for 2024; but if you haven't, why not do it tonight? At only $10 single, or $20 family, it's a great bargain. Some of the benefits include: access to OHA resources; OHA Trillium (available to download at <https://gardenontario.org>); participation in OHA and District events, such as AGMs, workshops and flower shows, and the OHA Convention; RBG group membership; WHS Newsletter; discounts at selected garden centres; and notification of gardening events and offers. Best of all, you get to meet and talk with other like-minded gardeners!

Summer Garden Help Wanted

In spite of the wintry blasts we're getting this week, it's not too early to think ahead to spring and summer gardening. As soon as the nice weather hits, we will be needing volunteers to help look after the WHS beds at St. John's and the Post Office. This will include dead-heading, weeding, planting, and watering. If you are able and willing to lend a hand with any of that, please let us know.

OHA 116th CONVENTION 2024

Hosted by Districts 7 & 8, with the theme "The Heartland of Gardens Growing and Rivers Flowing", this year's Convention takes place at Delta Hotels Conference Centre, in Guelph Ontario, from July 12-14.

Although there are many fun things to do over the weekend, the bus tours are a great way to meet people, while enjoying the unique attractions of the host district. This year there will be four tours, each running on Friday and Saturday, leaving at 1pm and 4:30pm. Featured are: The Green Legacy Programme, and Aspen Grove Gardens; University of Guelph's Trial Gardens, and Arboretum; Guelph Floral Clock & Enabling Gardens, and Woodlawn Cemetery; and Historical Blooms at McCrae House, Basilica of our Lady Immaculate, Cottage Garden and Guelph Wellington Hospice. Bus tours are $45 per person, per trip. Sign up as part of registration, but don't leave it too late, as they fill up quickly!

Also not-to-be-missed at Convention are the competitions. Enter, or just admire the beautiful blooms in the Flower Show. Horticultural classes include annuals, perennials, and houseplants, and the Design classes are a showcase for Ontario's best, and most imaginative designers. Photography is always a favourite, and Creative Writing brings out the inner poet in all of us. (Some more than others – lol) There are also Arts, Publications, and Youth competitions, to round things out.

Any member in good standing, of an Ontario horticultural society, may enter any of the competitions. Get details on classes, and deadlines at gardenontario.org/convention/
